Next multiplier about 1.05

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

The "multiplier creep" will continue here, but on a smaller scale than in recent years.

Escalating, compounded township multipliers on real estate assessment have been set annually by Madison County, following warnings of a potential county multiplier—often a hefty one. But the Illinois Revenue Department on Friday issued a tentative multiplier of "only" 1.0564 for this county.

Madison County traditionally qualifies for a 1.0 multiplier—No multiplier—by "equalizing" the various parts of the county's tax base with 24 township multipliers. That process is expected to happen again this winter regarding the 1982 tax year, for which the actual collection will occur in 1983.

J. Thomas Johnson, Revenue Department director, likes to refer to it as an assessment equalization factor. But, whatever its name, the multiplier has led to numerous Quad-City area real estate tax hikes (in combination with the levies set by local, county and district taxing bodies).

Assessment officials point out that valuations do not in themselves cause higher taxes. Nevertheless, with many tax rates already at their maximums, higher tax bills would not be possible unless the assessment base had expanded.

The progression has been significant. A 1.1 multiplier when compounded year to year would raise each tax dollar to $1.10, $1.21 and $1.33 in three years' time, while a series of 1.2 multipliers would boost each property tax dollar to $1.20, $1.44 and $1.72 in the same length of time.

Director Johnson said Friday, "Madison County has been issued a tentative property assessment equalization factor of 1.0564."

The factor, often called the multiplier, is the method used to achieve uniform property assessments among counties, as required by law.

"Equalization is particularly important because some of Illinois' 6,600 local taxing districts overlap into two or more counties. An example would be Belleville Area College; another would be the Metro-East Sanitary District."

"If there was no equalization among counties, substantial inequities among taxpayers with comparable properties would result."

"State law requires property in Illinois to be assessed at one-third of its market value. Farm property is

EPA teams seek lead in dirt samples

By GEORGEANN MCGEE
of the Press-Record

State employees concentrated on southwestern Granite City and northern Madison Thursday in a sample-taking investigation into the sources of high airborne lead readings recorded at the 15th Street and Madison Avenue air monitoring station.

The samplings was part of a lengthy three-step project to determine the amounts of lead exposure to residents in certain high risk areas in the two-city area.

Residential blocks and areas where children might play in dirt were the primary targets of the one-day sweep by four testing teams under the direction of the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency's (IEPA) Ambient Air Monitoring Section.

Thomas Bierma, overseeing the sampling in Granite City Thursday, said about 10 soil samples were being taken that day from Granite City with another 10 to 15 soil samples being gathered in Madison. About 30 vegetation samples from seven home gardens also were on the IEPA's collection list.

A few comparative samples from some other sections in the Quad-City area, including Benton, Boone, and northwestern Madison, also were collected to measure the levels of lead in areas further distance from the high lead readings being recorded on the industrial outskirts of downtown Granite City.

Employees, seeking the cooperation of residents, distributed IEPA informational sheets to some homeowners, but issued no precautionary warnings, according to Bierma. The state air control officials will wait until late February or early March, when a thorough sample analysis and interpolation is completed, before making any statements to residents.

Bierma said "logical precautions," such as preventing children from playing in dirt, and washing home grown vegetables, are always advisable.

(According to information distributed by the Childhood Lead Poisoning Control office, Nameoki Road, children whose parents' occupation could pose additional lead exposure, if proper precautions are not taken, include die casting employees, gasoline refinery workers, radiator repair workers, cable splicers and strippers, automotive machine shop workers, and those stained glass window and bullet casting hobbyists.

(Also canned foods with lead-sealed side seams contribute to lead intake.)

Of the seven gardens to be tested Thursday, four were to be in southwestern Granite City and one in the northern Madison testing area. One of the reasons behind taking several samples from just a few gardens is the difficulty of locating gardens still producing vegetables.

In addition, testing vegetation for lead levels is a time-consuming and expensive process, he said. All of the samples for those tests will be confined to the Granite City downtown—northern Madison area.

...but finding dirt is difficult

One of the problems facing soil sample collectors Robert Hagle and Sue Ramirez, R.N., Thursday was locating a strip of grass in downtown Granite City of at least 20 feet square.

The casually-attired state employees were in the downtown area Thursday to dig soil samples as part of a project to determine lead exposure in Granite City and Madison.

They came equipped with a map, a metal bucket, a plastic bag, a plastic bag to seal the samples, and an instrument intended to remove shallow core samples of dirt for future testing of surface lead levels.

Hagle, who is with the state's Environmental Protection Agency Collinsville office, searched for a strip of grass in the 1800 block

Delmar Avenue, near the Press-Record where soil was at least 10 feet away from lead-exposed parking lots and roadways, so it would not contain lead from vehicle emissions. No such place was found.

His assistant for the day, Sue Ramirez, a nurse consultant with the Illinois Department of Health, Springfield, had "volunteered" for the assignment. She will later be involved in the third part of the study, in which soil samples are taken from the sides of highways and other areas of lead exposure.

The two scientists — making up one of four teams — were focusing their collection efforts in the downtown and West Granite areas. They had just taken a sample in a lot in the 1800 block of Edison Avenue. Three samples, deposited in a single bag, are taken from each location. Approximately one inch of topsoil samplings are used from the shallow borings made.

Half way through his day, Hagle said residents had been fairly cooperative in allowing their property to be used for the sample sites.

Areas where children gather were priority testing sites for the samples, who wanted to get a soil sample from a school playground.

At the school on Benton Avenue, but were unable to locate the owners that afternoon.

Instead, Hagle sought the permission of a Hook's Tavern employee, busy with nighttime trade, and took the school's sampling from the bar's side yard.

THE NEW JUDGE. Attorney Norman Kinder of Granite City, center, smiles broadly at his swearing-in ceremony Friday as he becomes the newest associate judge in the Third Judicial Circuit, Madison and Bond counties. He was sworn in by Chief Circuit Judge Joseph J.

Borr, left, after a ceremony in which Attorney M. Joseph Hill, right, president of the Madison County Bar Association, offered kind words about Kinder's selection. The new judgeship was created by the Illinois Supreme Court based upon the heavy caseload in the circuit.

Predict bright future for SIUE campus

By NANCY WEIL
of the Press-Record

Nationwide enrollment declines, signaling the quantitative end of higher education, should not signify the demise of qualitative education, speakers said Thursday during the convocation at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville that marked the opening of its 25th anniversary year.

Clark Kerr, president emeritus of the University of California, who was the main speaker at the ceremony conducted on the Morris Quadrangle, said decreases in enrollment will continue to affect SIUE, but predicted that the university will continue to flourish.

"Despite your recent history, there are no disasters impending here. You will do about average for the state of Illinois and that can be handled," he said. SIUE enrollments have been declining for the past several years, forcing administrators to announce cutbacks in budgets and positions.

National studies by the Carnegie Commission on Higher Education have indicated an overall decline in higher education over the next 25 years, but Kerr predicted that SIUE will have better than average enrollment because more minorities are drawn to the university and the number of women will continue to increase. First generation students and continuing professionals will be the students of the future who also will aid SIUE's enrollment.

It has been predicted that enrollment generally will decline about 25 percent on a nationwide basis, but some have predicted declines of as much as 40 to 50 percent, Kerr said.

He added that SIUE probably will face declines of five to 15 percent, while the retention rate continues to increase.

"Also, you probably have had your greatest decline," he said, referring to SIUE's sagging enrollment during the mid-'70s.

Looking toward the next 25 years, Kerr urged SIUE to assist area high schools because, he said, 20 percent of the best students do not pursue their educations.

Kerr added that SIUE should aid the area by becoming a cultural center and by improving student-oriented services.

In a lighter moment, Kerr referred to the University of California at Berkeley as "the SIUE of California." His speech drew laughter from the audience several times.

SIUE President Earl Lazerson echoed Kerr's optimism about SIUE and pledged that the university would "vigorously pursue" its partnership with "common schools."

Lazerson also spoke of SIUE's contributions to the area. "The affairs in which we have been immersed range from student concerns and aspirations to the prospects of the state, the nation and world — and especially to the Southwestern Illinois — the region we were created to serve," he said.

While stressing that such involvement will continue, Lazerson said the future for SIUE is somewhat uncertain.

"While we are proud of our history of accomplishment and recognize it as an incremental base, which has led us to the present, we do not see it as a straight line forecast of the future. Much will depend on circumstances over which we shall not have complete control," he said.

Deb Buer, SIUE student body president who is from Granite City, also spoke of SIUE's future. The key to SIUE's success, she said, has been the university's 30,000 graduates.

Although it has been said that higher education has entered a period of

Arrest here on phone tap charges

Robert Joseph Swiatek, 46, of 33 Bermuda Lane, was arrested by agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and Division of Criminal Investigation (DCI) of the Illinois State Police Thursday evening for allegedly attempting to place an electronic eavesdropping device in a friend's home.

Swiatek is owner of Colonial Haven Nursing Home in Granite City and a member of the board of directors of Colonial Bank of Granite City.

He is charged by federal authorities with illegal interception of communications and the Madison County State's Attorney's office issued felony informational documents Friday charging him with burglary and conspiracy to commit eavesdropping.

Swiatek was arrested about 6 p.m. Thursday in the home of Serge Donikian, 2641 Westmoreland Drive, where he and another man allegedly planned to "tap" the telephone. The man Swiatek allegedly hired to help install the device actually was an undercover agent of the DCI, Donikian was told.

Donikian said he believes Swiatek wanted to listen to Donikian's conversations to gain information on the stock market. Donikian and Swiatek had invested successfully in the stock market many times, but Donikian, an investment advisor and owner of the Alexander's Restaurant building in Granite City, said he had stopped giving Swiatek as many "tips" on the market as in previous years.

Still, Donikian said, Swiatek would call Donikian almost daily and joke with him. "He was laughing at me and behind my back, he was planning to tap my phone. That's friends for you," Donikian alleged in a conversation with the Press-Record Saturday.

Joseph E. Ondrula, special agent-in-charge of the Springfield FBI office, said Friday that Swiatek is charged with attempting to obtain illegal eavesdropping equipment to wire tap telephones.

Donikian claims Swiatek went out of state to purchase a very sophisticated eavesdropping device and had it in his possession when arrested.

Donikian also claims that Swiatek had a key made to Donikian's home, without Donikian's permission. "I loaned him my key a month or two ago to put his van in my garage. He made a key to my house. I let him keep his van in my garage free all this time. That's

Hearing on treatment

Area residents interested in a review and update of the sewer facility plan for the Metro East Sanitary District's (MESD) Lansdowne treatment plant are invited to attend a public meeting at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 12, at the Madison Fire Hall, 1523 Third St., Madison.

Two alternate plans are being considered for the Lansdowne area by the engineering firm of Horner and Shifrin, Inc.:

(1) Abandon the Lansdowne sewage treatment plant and discharge the wastewater being treated at the Lansdowne plant to the Granite City sewage treatment plant.

(2) Upgrade the existing Lansdowne plant by the addition of extra facilities. The results of this study will serve as the basis for determining how wastewater in the Lansdowne area will be treated and, eventually, will impact on the cost to the users of the system.

Residents to be affected by the results of this study are those who live in the municipalities of Brooklyn, Caseyville, Fairmont City, Madison, National City, Venice and Washington Park and part of East St. Louis.

Also affected are residents in the unincorporated areas of Siles and

BURGLARY AT LORD NELSON'S

In a burglary at Lord Nelson's Game Room, 1226 Nineteenth St., last week, six machines and the jukebox were forced open.

The intruders cut an iron bar on a rear door with a hacksaw and forced open a wooden door to enter the premises. Four coin boxes were missing and two boxes were emptied and replaced in machines, the report said. About $400 was stolen from the machines and $30 was taken from an envelope.

Travelers Abroad 'visits' Europe

Travelers Abroad held its first fall meeting last week with 30 members and guests present. Guests introduced were Mesdames Martha Bischoff, Marguerite Lexow, Ruth Ann Bartels, Frances Jones, Fern House and Al Schaefer and Harvey House.

Dr. Alice Purdes presided in the absence of the president and a brief moment of silence was conducted for former member, the late Mrs. Helen Gantcheff.

Dr. Purdes introduced Al Schaefer, a teacher at the Venice-Lincoln Technical Center who presented a narrated movie program on Western Europe. The persons involved in this trip, the fourth one led by Schaefer, were all members of the same church congregation. The trip, taken in 1980, was built around attendance at the Passion Play in Oberammergau, Germany. Schaefer reminded his audience that a special series of performances of this world-famous play will be conducted in 1984 to commemorate the 250th anniversary of the play. Normally the play is held only on the decade years.

Flying into Frankfurt, the group started their tour in Trier, the most ancient of German cities. It was the capital of the Roman Empire in the West and is famous for its Porta Nigra.

Beautiful gardens were seen everywhere, and this was rained on the majority of its 19 days. The Germans were putting the blame for all the rainy weather on the eruption of Mount St. Helens, the speaker said.

From Trier the group drove into the tiny country of Luxembourg. The American Cemetery here, beautifully maintained, is a tribute to the American servicemen who lost their lives in Europe. General Patton is buried here in front of the Memorial Chapel, he explained.

From Luxembourg the group went to Reims, France, where they viewed the cathedral which was badly damaged during the war. Pollution in the air is destroying even more of the church and many of the niches are without statues because of their deterioration.

Entering Paris, tour members learned there are two copies of the Statue of Liberty there—one in a park and one in the river. Many famous buildings and streets were viewed here where extensive restorative work is underway to halt the deterioration of the historic sites. Attention was called to the Hotel Deville, from which the St. Louis City Hall was patterned. Pictures taken from the highest points possible showed the traffic of Paris being terrible. Many drivers looked as if they were "playing bumper cars" in their careless driving habits.

A side trip to Versailles revealed lovely gardens and statuary in addition to the palace.

On the way to Strasbourg, the tourists passed through the university town of Nancy. In Stanislaus Square one can see huge gilded wrought iron fences and gates. In Strasbourg one sees a cathedral that started out as an example of Romanesque architecture and was finished in Gothic style.

Moving on to Zurich and Lucerne, the movie showed the lion of Lucerne which represents the Swiss Guard who gave their lives for Louis XV. St. Moritz, a ski resort nestled in the mountains, provided the group with the opportunity to ride the funicular and tram cars to the top of the mountains.

Oberammergau, with its play lasting two one-half hours in the morning and two one-half hours in the afternoon, with a long lunch break, was the next stop. Tickets for this performance were ordered almost a year in advance. While in this area, some of the visitors toured King Ludwig II's Linderhof castle, which is very ornate within and has beautiful gardens also. Ludwig bankrupted his country building on three castles, and Linderhof was completely finished.

Salsburg, with its very narrow streets and scenes from the "Sound of Music" was next on the tour. The Mirabell Palace, built on the edge of town by an archbishop, for his family, is one of Salzburg's beautiful house and garden showspots. Everything looks as if it has been manicured. The Hellbrunn, a "fun palace" built by another archbishop, who was a practical joke, is also famous. This palace features hidden fountains and spouts which the archbishop delighted in turning on to his guests' dismay, sometimes while they were dining at his table. All the chairs, except his, had spouts in the seats. Guides still trip these sprays and nozzles and catch or drench unsuspecting tourists.

The last city shown to the group was Munich and aerial views of the 1972 Olympic site were seen. The 11 o'clock show of the Glockenspiel featured the joust between a Bavarian knight and another knight and always draws a huge crowd. So far, according to Schaefer, the Bavarian knight has always won.

At the end of the program members were asked to contact Dr. Purdes for dates on which they would present programs of their recent trips.

assessed differently, with farm homesites and dwellings subject to regular assessing and equalization procedures, but with farmland and buildings assessed according to standards based on productivity.

"The multiplier is determined yearly for each county by comparing the sales price of individual properties sold over the past three years to the assessed value placed on those properties by the assessor."

"If this three-year average level of assessment is one-third of market value, the equalization factor will be one. If the average level is greater than a third of market value, the factor will be less than one. If the average level is less than a third, the multiplier will be greater than one."

"Assessments in Madison County now are at 31.55 percent of market value, based on sales of properties in 1979, 1980 and 1981," Johnson informed the Press-Record.

"The multiplier currently being assigned is for 1982 taxes payable in 1983."

"Last year's factor for this county was 1.0."

"The new tentative multiplier is subject to change if the county's Board of Review takes actions that significantly affect the assessments, or if local officials or others can present data showing that the Revenue Department's estimates of the average level of assessments in the county should be adjusted."

"A public hearing on the tentative multiplier will be held between 20 and 30 days after the tentative figure is published in a newspaper of general circulation within the county."

"A change in the multiplier does not mean total property tax bills will rise or fall. The bills are determined by local taxing bodies when they request money each year to provide services to citizens."

"If the amount requested is no greater than what was received in the previous year, then local taxes will not increase even if assessments may have risen."

"The assessed value of an individual property determines what portion of the tax burden a specific taxpayer will assume. His or her portion of tax responsibility is not changed by the multiplier."

According to the state's annual quality report, children are the most sensitive to lead poisoning effects, which include serious behavioral problems. Among other possible effects of low level exposure are interference with blood production and kidney and nervous system cell damage.

Previous vegetation tests proved inconclusive.

According to the fact sheet handed residents Thursday, the IEPA is concerned a potential may be still present for a sudden rise in airborne lead, similar to readings last year. Two days last year, levels exceeded health standards by 20 times.

"The average lead monitored at the site has since dropped, but is still higher than it should be to meet the state and national health standard," the release stated.

Besides the soil and vegetable analysis planned, the IEPA has installed a new air monitor in the 1700 block of Cleveland Boulevard, less than a block from the Taracorp Industries (formerly National Lead).

Canton townships and parts of Venice and Nameoki townships.

Basic purpose of the public meeting is to identify and discuss sewage treatment needs and problems in the area currently served by the Lansdowne plant.

"The meeting will be an opportunity for residents to learn more about the study of the facilities plan for the Lansdowne area and how it may affect them."

Persons with specific questions and concerns will be given an opportunity to express them. The public meeting is designed to give local residents a voice in the project plans.

Those wishing to participate but unable to attend the meeting may submit questions and/or receive the minutes of the meeting from Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission, 203 W. Main St., Collinsville 62234, Attention: Mike Keefe.

what kind of friends we were," Donkian alleged.

He said federal authorities seized both Swiatek's van and his car and could attempt to gain possession of them for the government, since both allegedly were involved in the commission of a felony.

Donkian also alleged that undercover agents videotaped the activities when Swiatek and the undercover agent posing as Swiatek's assistant used the key to enter Donkian's house. Agents then closed in and took Swiatek from the house in handcuffs.

Swiatek appeared before U.S. Magistrate Gerald B. Kohn in East St. Louis Friday afternoon and was released on, bond $100,000 bond. He posted $1,000, or 10 percent of the bond, and was released on the stipulation that his travel is restricted to Central and Southern Illinois and St. Louis and St. Louis counties in Missouri.

Swiatek's wife, Carol, told the Press-Record Saturday that they have been advised by their attorney to make no comment on the charges at this time.

Jerry Maeras sued for about $2 million

Jerry S. Maeras, longtime Madison businessman, was sued Thursday for about $2 million, allegedly obtained prior to the Stix and Co. stock brokerage's November 1981 collapse.

Harry O. Moline, court-appointed trustee for the defunct brokerage, filed the suit at the U.S. Bankruptcy Court in St. Louis.

It alleges that Maeras, a service station operator, real estate broker, insurance agent and former Venice Township public collector, wrongfully converted to his own use approximately $2 million.

It is contended that cash and securities were used to purchase property and to open bank accounts.

Maeras transferred the ownership of some of his property to relatives a few weeks before the federal investigation of Stix became public knowledge.

Another new lawsuit by Moline accuses Sidney Cohen & Co., outside auditors for Stix, of being negligent and careless in examining the brokerage's financial condition from 1979 through Sept. 30, 1980.

It is said that Stix annual reports for the fiscal years of 1976 through 1980 contained inaccuracies, enabling the looting scheme to be implemented.

Sidney Cohen & Co., which is being sued for $14 million, went out of business on June 1, 1981, with some of the employees joining the firm of Alexander Grant & Co.

The suit against Maeras is described as somewhat similar to suits filed earlier against Thomas R. Brimberry of Granite City, senior vice-president for operations, and James J. Massa of Collinsville, director and the major stockholder.

Brimberry has told federal authorities he helped loot the brokerage of millions of dollars. No one has been charged, but court records show Brimberry is prepared to plead to a single tax felony.

Thursday's lawsuit alleges that Maeras, a customer of Stix, conspired with others to falsify records and conceal the scheme. He is asked to provide a complete accounting of money withdrawn since 1975 and to turn over all assets bought with Stix money. He denies any wrongdoing.

S & L merger announced

you can BANK on it!

By ED GURNEY

Union Savings and Loan of Collinsville and Madison County Federal Savings and Loan of Granite City have announced plans to merge.

Saying the union will put them in "a better competitive position" and will result in expanded services for customers.

When the merger is effective, probably in November, the resulting institution will be the largest operating solely in Madison County, spokesmen said.

"We have looked at this as a business decision," Union

Savings and Loan executive vice president Earl Jukes said at a press conference Friday. "In this very strong, competition is very strong in the savings and loan business."

Both firms were established in 1923. Madison County Federal, which has branches in Troy and Glen Carbon, has about $65 million in assets; Union's assets total $30 million.

The name Madison County Federal Savings and Loan will be used after the merger.

Jukes was asked if high interest rates and a poor economy, which have been hard on savings and loans in recent years, brought about the merger.

"Obviously economic conditions have something to do with every business decision you make," Jukes said. "That is not the sole reason, however."

Jukes and Paul Sodko, president of Madison County Federal, said the merger is voluntary. "There has been absolutely no pressure by any governmental agency whatsoever," Jukes said.

Business editor to address conference

"The Small Business Climate" will be the subject when Milton D. Stewart, editor of Inc. Magazine, speaks at a luncheon Wednesday during the St. Louis Regional Commerce and Growth Association's "Small Business Day."

The day's activities will be held at the Chase Hotel, and will include a business exhibition by more than 100 local companies from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m.

The day has been coordinated and sponsored by the IGA's Small Business Council as a means for small business owners and operators from the metropolitan region to inform themselves and to meet one another.

Stewart, 60, is a former special counsel to the governor of New York, president of the National Small Business Association, president of the National Association of Small Business Investment Companies, chairman of the Research Council for Small Business, chief counsel for advocacy with the U.S. Small Business Administration and counsel to the White House Conference on Small Business.

He has been editor of Inc. Since 1981. Founded in 1979 to cover small business concerns, the magazine now has a circulation of about 400,000.

Both exhibitions and the luncheon are open to the public. Luncheon tickets at $12 may be obtained by calling June Fitzgerald at 1-314-231-5555.

Funeral of Mrs. Doisy held today

Funeral services for Linda Watral Doisy, 33, wife of G. R. A. Doisy, a city ophthalmologist Dr. Edward A. Doisy III, were conducted this morning at Oak Grove Cemetery in Normandy.

Mrs. Doisy died Friday, Oct. 1, 1982, at her home in St. Louis following a long illness. She had been a nurse at Cardinal Glennon Hospital, St. Louis, until five years ago.

Dr. Doisy is an associate of Dr. Donald Schmelmann at the Disease and Surgery of the Eyes office, 12 Nameoki Village Shopping Center.

Besides her husband, she is survived by her two daughters, Gina and Sarah; three brothers, Brian Watral of Oklahoma City, Okla., and James and Lawrence Watral, both of St. Louis; and three sisters, Carol Watral, Miami, Fla., Joyce Smith, Fort Rucker, Ala., and Janet Meyer, St. Louis.

The suit against Maeras is described as somewhat similar to suits filed earlier against Thomas R. Brimberry of Granite City, senior vice-president for operations, and James J. Massa of Collinsville, director and the major stockholder.

Brimberry has told federal authorities he helped loot the brokerage of millions of dollars. No one has been charged, but court records show Brimberry is prepared to plead to a single tax felony.

Thursday's lawsuit alleges that Maeras, a customer of Stix, conspired with others to falsify records and conceal the scheme. He is asked to provide a complete accounting of money withdrawn since 1975 and to turn over all assets bought with Stix money. He denies any wrongdoing.

North-South rivalry too strong

It's getting out of hand. Thursday evening's soccer game between Granite City High Schools North and South ended with the game being discontinued due to fighting.

It seems that each North-South meet gets a little more violent. When the state soccer tournament first began more than a decade ago, we covered several games before we even saw a yellow card. Now, they are being thrown as frequently as referees' flags at football games.

It's not just in soccer. The rivalry between North and South extends into many areas. The two schools should be friendly rivals, not bitter enemies. We're all Granite Cityans.

Parents are as much to blame as the students. Not a week goes by that we do not receive one or more unsigned letters from parents accusing us of giving North more coverage than South or South more coverage than North. The letters involve sports, bands, parades and other activities. "Does the staff of the Press all live in the South area that they lean toward South?" is typical of the unsigned letters. Others accuse us of favoring North and only accusing South of fighting on the soccer field and other devious acts.

If any Granite City student gains recognition in the paper is a good thing. All of Granite City should be proud. When a local student does well at college or in the military, Granite City should applaud — not just the north half or the south half.

This attitude by the parents carries over into the students. The rivalry has reached the point where it is unhealthy, as witnessed by Thursday night's soccer game. When a group of Granite City students cannot even get together to play a game of soccer without the game being stopped for a melee, it is time for school authorities, parents, students and everyone to step back and rethink what we have done.

Regional GC treatment logical

The scheduling of a public hearing in Madison Oct. 12 on the future of the Lansdowne treatment plant inevitably recalls its past.

Political feuding seemed to be the main reason why the three local cities could not get together to jointly provide primary treatment of sanitary sewage prior to its discharge into the Mississippi River.

Federal officials encouraged the Granite City treatment plant to be designed and built especially large so that it could handle sewage from a wide geographic area.

But instead of linking their lines to the nearby plant, situated on Army Installation property along the local riverfront, Madison and Venice connected to the East Side Levee District-Metro East Sanitary District treatment plant in St. Clair County.

Secondary treatment is now being required of Madison, Venice and their fellow treatment plant users, Brooklyn, Caseyville, Fairmont City, National City, Washington Park and East St. Louis. This list of areas would seem to be a conglomeration of "strange bedfellows," in view of the long historical link between Venice, Madison and Granite City; but a few years ago the three cities did not feel comfortable in setting up a treatment relationship among themselves. Now, the issue to be discussed at the hearing is whether to abandon the troubled Lansdowne plant and route all the sanitary sewage reaching there to the Granite City treatment plant—or whether to upgrade and expand Lansdowne.

The most economical and efficient answer would appear to be obvious: consolidate the treatment at Granite City. But we have observed politics for enough years to know better than to bet much on the outcome.

Granite City apparently is not the easiest municipality to bargain with; areas served by abutments, for example, have gradually split away from the city's service.

Granite City's relations with neighboring areas regarding sewage treatment also have been less than amicable. On the other hand, at least some of its big cost in operating the plant has stemmed from the over-sizing to accommodate a vast treatment volume.

Maybe if all parties tried harder to get along with each other, and did a bit of compromising, they could devise a way to utilize the big treatment plant to its capacity—and achieve savings for the taxpayers and for their city treasuries.

Pain-pill murders shock area

The seven Chicago area deaths attributed to Extra Strength Tylenol filled with cyanide are a shocker. A madman is thought to have opened many capsules, removed the pain-relieving compound, and substituted for it the deadly poison.

In view of what is known so far, use and purchase of Extra Strength Tylenol ought to halt entirely. The cessation should continue until there has been a full evaluation of what happened and whether the peril has been eliminated.

The aspirin-type product captured a leading share of the market for pain-reducing drug products in the late 1970s and early 1980s. Many Quad-Cityans who checked their medicine cabinets during the weekend found they had bottles of the capsules on hand, waiting for their next headache.

Probably all of the supplies here are safe, but it will be best not to consume them until more complete findings have become available through the massive investigation launched by health officials, states and the U.S. Food and Drug Administration.

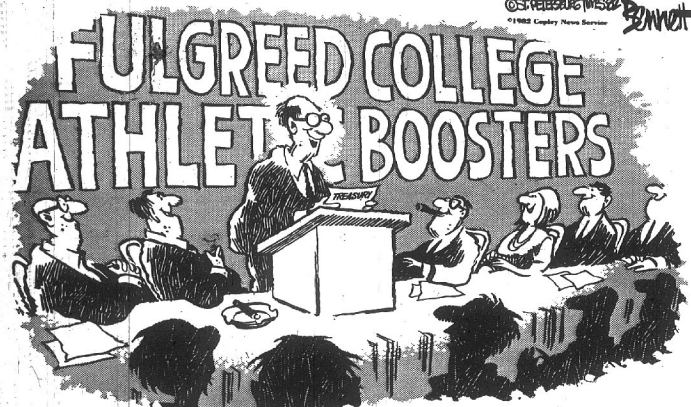

Illinois Attorney General Tyrone Fahner says it is planned to question a dozen or more men, including several "disgruntled workers" from stores connected with the deaths. The theory is that someone purchased cyanide, stole or bought the capsules and, working at home, loaded the poison into four to a dozen emptied capsules per bottle, the bottles then were replaced in their boxes and put back onto store shelves, one to a store, around the northwestern area of Chicago and its suburbs Sept. 28, the day before the first four victims died.

The poison itself is a swift and virtually certain killer. Whoever caused its presence in a trusted, easily available, unsealed medication is guilty of murder—murder of a particularly vicious, indiscriminate type.

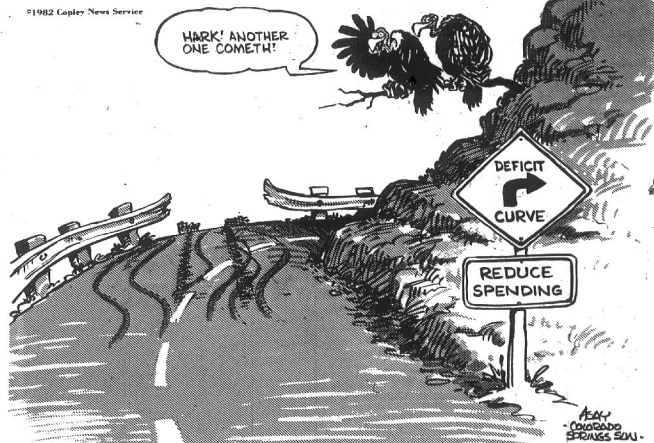

It is a cliché but also an apt phrase: "innocent victims." Those struck down in the prime of their lives, at random, by such a cruel act have been victimized in the most extreme manner imaginable.

All possible steps must be taken to find and prosecute the person or persons responsible for seven painful, pointless deaths.

AND THANKS TO YOUR GENEROUS CONTRIBUTIONS, LAST MONTH WE WERE ABLE TO PURCHASE THE NEW BASKETBALL UNIFORMS, THE 6'5" GUARD, AND THAT FORWARD FROM THE BRONX!!

Members of the Press-Record editorial staff surveyed persons in the Quad-City area asking for their comments on Congress rejecting a Constitutional amendment to balance the federal budget. Their reactions follow:

David Warren, Granite City

"I think it's good that they (Congressmen) didn't put it into effect. They'd make up a committee that would cost megabucks, so next year — or possibly in a decade — they wouldn't have a balanced budget. I don't think a president can balance a budget in one term of office."

Mark Smith, Granite City

"In order to get a deficit, you have to first get the economy in order, then you can balance the budget. I'm glad it didn't pass. Reagan's cuts are making things worse."

Barbara Brown, Granite City

"They should have passed it. The Congressmen should have to live like people on Social Security benefits also."

Peral Kampmann, Granite City

"I don't go along with Reagan. His budget stinks. I'm glad it didn't pass. I'm a Christian, so I don't agree with a movie star being a president."

Feels some stores are overcharging taxes

To the Editor:

I am writing this letter concerning the sales tax in Granite City.

Effective Jan. 1, 1982, the sales tax rate in Granite City is 4 percent on all food items and 6 percent on non-food items, drugs, and alcoholic beverages.

Three-quarters of a percent of this tax goes to the city of Granite City. One-quarter of a percent goes to Madison County and the remainder is sent to the state of Illinois.

I manage a business in Granite City and do comply with the tax laws, as stated. There were businesses all over the city complaining about the two different tax rates because cash registers needed to be changed. We who do not have a register to accommodate two tax rates are forced to improvise, and do just that. I have seen, myself, two stores in the area who charge a flat 6 percent tax rate on every item (food or alcohol). One store was even under the impression that there is only one tax rate, 6 percent.

These stores, I have noticed, do not have a cash register equipped to handle two tax rates and, therefore, do not bother with it.

The sales tax stores collect is paid to the revenue service based on gross sales. Therefore, the stores that are overcharging consumers are pocketing the money left over.

Consumers should be aware of how much sales tax they pay. We all pay enough as it is.

The Granite City Department of Revenue should out notices reminding these businesses of the tax rate laws in our city.

Additional GC Council action---at a glance

Additional Granite City Council discussions and actions Tuesday included the following:

After skipping last year's convention due to a tight fiscal year, Granite City aldermen approved to 5 expenses for themselves and fire and police commissioners for the Illinois Municipal League's annual convention in Chicago. The cost will be $450 each for those who took the trip, which was endorsed by Mayor Paul Schuler as the only means of keeping informed of current municipal practices. The convention expenses had not been included in the budget, and will be taken from the administrative contingency fund.

Voting against the trip were Aldermen Sam Whitmer, Warren Deatour, Paul Flak, Michael Modrusile and Jake Vardian. Absent for the voting was Alderman Paul Ray Bowler.

Aldermen Casmer Skubish, chairman of the city's air pollution control committee, said he wanted to alert the council about possible dangers associated with "acid rain" originating from tiny airborne particles of sulfur dioxide. The highest statewide annual average of sulfur dioxide was recorded last year in East St. Louis. Skubish said that one of the hazards associated with the particles is that they can be carried for several miles from the primary source to fall on areas miles away. "I think the course is laid out for us to be on the alert," he warned.

In another air pollution control issue, Alderman Carl Kittel, a member of the air pollution committee who has argued against the alternate emissions tradeoff proposed by Granite City Steel Division of National Steel, told the council about a U.S. federal appeals court decision striking down one form of the alternate "bubble" concept. According to Larry G. Siebenberger, manager of the company's environmental control, the Aug. 17 court decision involved new industrial sources or major modifications, unlike the plan suggested by Granite City Steel. That application has been approved by the state, but still must receive federal approval.

The council approved on first reading an ordinance to hike parking meter fines to $5 if paid within 24 hours and $10 after 24 hours. Alderman Sam Whitmer has asked the council to consider a higher fine before the ordinance is given final passage. It will be considered for final passage Tuesday night.

Newsboy alone worth the quarter

To the Editor:

I want to compliment the Press-Record for giving kids a chance to earn some money by having kids deliver the Press-Record.

I know when I am not home, my paper will be put in a safe place. My delivery boy, Doyle Curtright, leaves my paper inside the screen door and he knows when I'm home next time and he gets paid, he gets a tip.

The other paper that is thrown in the yard free to litter up the yard makes a home open to burglary when several papers are thrown in the yard.

Thanks again. I'd give a quarter for a paper delivered to my door any day that prints the truth instead of that other non-union paper.

Troopers find one of each nine drivers in study drunk

About one out of every nine drivers are driving "drunk." At least that is what a Special Enforcement Detail found in Godfrey Township last week.

Troopers, secretary of state police officers and Madison County sheriff's deputies arrested 13 persons for driving under the influence (DUI) on Friday and Saturday nights last weekend. In addition, 47 other arrests were made for illegal transporting of open liquor, illegal possession of alcohol by minors, unlawful possession of marijuana and other miscellaneous violations. The detail also resulted in the recovery of a stolen pickup truck and arrest of the driver. The joint enforcement effort was partly a result of eight traffic fatalities in a 10 month period in the Godfrey area. Most of these fatalities involved drinking drivers. Captain Laimutis A. Nargeles, commander of Illinois State Police, District 11 at Maryville, said, "We will not tolerate the intoxicated driver on our highways." Nargeles said that these details will continue until drivers realize that if they drive "drunk" they will be arrested. This is being done to further reduce the needless slaughter on our highways.

Poison in four batches of Extra Strength Tylenol

With seven Chicago area deaths last week related to Extra Strength Tylenol capsules containing cyanide, the following four batches have been identified as being contaminated: MC2880, 1910MD, 1801MA and MB1833.

All have been recalled, and health authorities are urging that no one consume any Extra Strength Tylenol capsules until the investigation has been completed.

Dr. Robert Reifman of Cook County describes the suspect being sought as a sadistically cruel "loner." About a dozen persons are to be questioned, including several who worked for drug stores. It is believed that capsules from stores, replaced their pain-remedy ingredients with the poison, and then put them back on store shelves while employees were not watching.

Random killings are said to have been desired by a murderer, who put the contaminated medicine on the front of the shelves so that those bottles would be the next ones purchased.

Some of the potentially poisoned capsules have been reported in Florida and other southern states, and in central Missouri.

At least one poisoned but unsold bottle has been confiscated in Schaumburg, Ill., and is being checked for fingerprints.

Illinois state legislation is being drafted to require seals on over-the-counter medication.

Intruders rob and beat man

Granite City police are applying for felony information documents from the Madison County state's attorney's office today, charging two local men with robbery.

The pair, already charged with battery, allegedly robbed and beat William Woodson, 4309 Kirkpatrick Homes, at his residence at 12:05 a.m. Sunday. A third person also is implicated in the incident.

Police were called to Woodson's home in reference to a disturbance and were told by the victim that three people beat him and took about $30 in cash and two sets of keys on a brass ring.

Woodson, who sustained a bloody nose and a cut to the top of his head, said the intruders repeatedly beat on the front door and then the rear door and when he finally opened a door, the three men inside started hitting and choking him.

One man allegedly held his hands over Woodson's eyes while the others reached into his trousers pocket and took the money and keys, he said.

A neighbor, hearing the noise, went to the Woodson apartment and saw a man run out of the front door. A second man was standing in the kitchen, but walked out when she came in, she told police. Other neighbors told police of seeing the men go inside the dwelling.

A description of two of the three was given police and the area was searched without success.

At 1:50 a.m. Sunday, police responded to a disturbance call from Eddie's Lounge, 2900 Nameoki Road, where it was believed the same threesome was involved in a fight. They already had left the premises when officers arrived.

One of the men was seen walking in the 2900 block of Nameoki Road and was arrested. A second man also on foot was taken into custody a short distance away and was identified by the victim as one of the attackers. A woman companion of one of the men was also arrested. She has been the third person at the Woodson home, it is suspected.

The two men initially were charged with battery, pending informational documents being issued. The woman was arrested at 5:10 a.m. Sunday at her home on an outstanding warrant alleging disorderly conduct. She was released on notice to appear.

Seek 2 in shooting case

Two men are being sought in connection with an assault when a shot was fired at 9:45 p.m. Friday in the hallway of an apartment building above Ken's Lounge, 1539 E. 20th St.

Police were called to the apartment of Larry S. Fudge at that address who reported answering a knock at the door and finding two men standing there who asked for someone named "Jeff."

Telling the men that no one by that name lived there, Fudge shut the door, which was then kicked in by the men, both of whom displayed guns.

One of the men grabbed Fudge by the shirt, threatening him with a gun. Fudge broke away from the gunman and ran into the hallway. Whereupon, the man fired a shot at him, the victim told police.

The shot missed, but Fudge reported falling onto the hallway floor. The man who fired the weapon then said, "Don't move or I'll shoot you again."

Fudge laid on the floor until he heard the men walk away and then he knocked on neighbor's door, asking for help until police arrived, he said.

One man was described as 5 feet, 10 inches tall, weighing 250 pounds, between 25 and 30 years old, with light brown hair and some facial hair. He held a blue steel revolver, possibly a .38-caliber weapon with a four-inch barrel.

TAKE RADIO, TAPES, Fletcher Land, 1517 Second St., Madison, reported during last week that thieves broke a window in his vehicle and stole an AM-FM cassette radio, two door speakers and six tapes in cases.

A blue steel handgun with a small barrel.

Police located an empty .32-caliber shell casing on the hallway floor and a bullet hole in the wall paneling.

Officers investigating the incident talked with several people in the front yard at an address in the 2000 block of Washington Avenue and recovered a fully loaded .30 rifle from beneath a front porch. None of those present claimed ownership of the rifle and all denied any knowledge of the shooting incident.

Moments after the initial report was made, one of the officers responding to the scene saw a pickup truck leaving the rear of Ken's Lounge and halted the vehicle on Washington Avenue.

A 33-year-old Granite City woman inside the truck was arrested and charged with having a Firearm Owner's Identification Card after it was alleged that three live 16-gauge shotgun shells were found on the passenger seat of the vehicle and an empty shotgun-rifle case was the floorboards.

Several live rounds of ammunition also were in the glove compartment, it was alleged. She was released at 11:30 a.m. Saturday on payment of a $100 cash bond.

After Fight

Warriors win abbreviated North, South contest

FIGHT. Referee Rich Burroughs (far right) tries to break up the fight between Granite City North and Granite City South players which occurred in Thursday's North-South game at South.

After the fight was broken up, North walked off the field with 1:49 left in the game, and South won the game 3-0. A fight also broke out in the first game between the two teams Sept. 7.

(SPORTS EDITOR'S NOTE: Thanks to South-Western Cable TV, Miss Well and the sports editor were afforded the opportunity to view the North-South soccer game in its entirety Friday. Viewing the recording enabled Miss Well to check her figures and account of the game with a concise, accurate account of the game.

Obviously disgusted and frustrated, the Granite North soccer team walked off Granite South's field Thursday with only 1:49 remaining in the second game of the season against the Warriors.

Although the Warriors shut out the Steelers for the second time this year the game will be remembered years from now for the fighting rather than the 3-0 victory.

The game had been aggressive, but generally the play was fair and clean until Sam Tate of North and Nathan Crane of South collided as both were running full speed toward the ball as it rolled unattended along the right side of the field near North's goal area.

The two got into a bit of a scrap, but it was nothing compared to the antics that followed. Not only were players involved, but fans also converged on the area to take part in the free-for-all that the referees could not control.

"I elect not to cast dispersions at the other team. I simply prefer to blame the situation and high emotions rather than end a young man's reputation as an athlete, a student and a fellow human being."

Gene Baker
Warrior soccer coach

Several minutes later, the teams were told to leave the field while the officials tried to sort out the mess. The decision was made to eject Benny Nolan and Tate from North, but the referees could not determine who to eject from South.

Upon approaching South's bench, one of the officials said, "I don't know the numbers of the players involved, but I can tell by their faces."

After looking over the players, there still was no consensus and so the officials decided to eject Phil Popmarkoff, who had been yellow-carded earlier, but had nothing to do with the altercation.

It was the decision to eject only one player from South that riled the Steelers and sent them to the bench to pack up their belongings.

North coach Bob Kehoe raised two questions after the Steelers left the field.

"Does anybody in this town ever question why the South soccer team gets into fights in so many games?" He then queried as to why North had one more player ejected than did South. "I don't understand that," he said.

In the first game the two teams played, three players from North and two from South were ejected after a fight.

The players, he said, decided to leave

It was a tragic end to the North-South game

Last Thursday evening's soccer contest between Granite City North's Steelers and Granite City South's Warriors was a tragedy.

It's tragic when the two high school teams, in a town that is known as the hotbed of Illinois prep soccer, cannot compete without raising a ruckus.

I'm all for competitiveness and the excitement that an aggressive game of soccer will bring. However, somewhere along the way, players on both North's and South's soccer teams lost sight of why they were out on that field.

With just 1:55 remaining in Thursday's game, a fight broke out. It was the second time in as many meetings this year that a North-South game has been marred by such an incident. In the first game, at North, play resumed after the fight. Last Thursday it didn't. With 1:49 remaining, when both teams had reassembled after the altercation, the Steelers walked off the field and onto their bus.

Before the fight, South was winning 3-0. The score didn't change after the fight or after North walked off the field. The outcome remained the same. It was senseless.

The whole thing was senseless. For the Steelers, losing Thursday's game was bad enough. It was obvious by the way they walked to their bus.

But, to make things worse, the Steelers were made to forfeit Saturday's game against McCluer North of St. Louis. The order came from North's Principal Gilbert Walmesley.

Second guessing Mr. Walmesley's decision would be a mistake, but I believe making the Steelers forfeit of Saturday's game was too harsh a punishment.

The Steelers were punished for walking off the soccer field, true. But, when disciplinary actions were taken against the Steelers and not South, no matter what the circumstances, it's almost certain that North's athletes would feel the scapegoats.

I'm not saying South should be penalized either. Perhaps only those players who were ejected from the game should have been penalized. Although, as was the case Thursday, those ejected are not always at fault.

I had the benefit of seeing the entire game Friday, thanks to South-Western Cable TV.

I realize things on the field during the fight were chaotic, but I can't believe the referees didn't know what players from South were involved after they finally broke the thing up.

The referees were, however, able to identify two players from North they believed involved in the ruckus. Consequently, Benny Nolan and Sam Tate were ejected from the game.

Phil Popmarkoff was the sacrificial ejection from South. Sacrificial because Popmarkoff (and it's visible on the tape) was not involved in the fight. He was detained elsewhere.

The referee admittedly did not get the numbers of those involved from South, but he "would know their faces." But, as it turned out, even that proved to be difficult.

Popmarkoff was a victim of a previous yellow card. That's not to say that South's players were not involved. They were as guilty as North, and it's obvious on the South-Western recording.

Unfair as it may be, some of North's players who were involved were ejected. South's players who were involved escaped the referee's wrath. There are no excuses, no rhyme or reason. They were just lucky. If you will. Despite some allegations, I'm sure Gene Baker had nothing to do with the referees' inability to pinpoint the Warriors involved, as some have hinted. Likewise, North's coach, Bob Kehoe, did not order his players to quit. They did that by themselves.

Briggs said.

MADISON — The Madison Trojan soccer team defeated the Assumption Pioneers Thursday 3-1. It is the Trojans' second victory over Assumption this year. It was a game the Trojans clearly dominated.

Madison coach Gene Briggs was obviously pleased with the outcome. "We played well. The kids went all out for this one," Briggs said.

The Trojans scored first when John Lewis booted in a score with only 7:20 remaining in the first quarter. Robert Robinson was credited with the assist, while Mike Young was credited with setting the ball to Lewis.

The Trojans' second goal also came in the first quarter. At the 11:30 mark, on a shot that resembled the first score, Young took a pass from Mark Martinez for the score.

In the third quarter, Assumption tagged the scoreboard on a penalty kick. Assumption's David Morales scored after Madison's fullback Chris Sharp was penalized for a sliding tackle.

Unfortunately, North's players ejected from the game are a matter of record. Naming the South players involved would serve no one. They know who they are.

Ironically, in the midst of all that adversity, there were two exceptional athletes: Popmarkoff and Rick Branding.

In the midst of all the mayhem, these two athletes were doing what they could to break up the fight. Branding is the most obvious as he broke up two fueding players.

If there is any disciplinary action taken, conversely both of these athletes should be commended for trying to break up the fight. They displayed true sportsmanship.

This morning, both schools' coaches, principals and Joe Fedora, assistant administrator for athletics and physical education, met "to discuss the situation" in Fedora's office.

According to Fedora, the meeting was not to discuss disciplinary action. It was to discuss how such situations may be avoided in the future, Fedora said. One more thing. It's possible (and highly probable) that both of these teams will meet again in regional competition. It will be the third time this year. As the saying goes, guys, let's make the third time a charm.

Althoff edges Steelers 17-12

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record

BELLEVILLE — Belleville Althoff coach Glenn Schott didn't have to look far in his locker room to find the turning point of the Crusaders' 17-12 win over Granite City North on Saturday night. All he had to do is point to one player — senior halfback Chris Demick.

Demick is one of the smaller backs in the Gateway East Conference at 5-8, 172 pounds, but he put every pound and every inch of his frame into the Crusader's running effort.

Granite City North's forte is its defense, but Demick found plenty of holes in the defense Saturday. He ran 184 yards on 24 carries.

The yardage alone would have been enough to break most teams, but one play was all it took for Demick to turn the tide of the game to Althoff.

Demick's 43 yard touchdown run with 1:45 left in the third quarter was the big play of the game.

"That kid, Demick, was the turning point of the game," Schott said.

However, both teams tried to create turning points throughout the game through key turnovers and key plays.

North provided the first lesson in the first quarter.

North defensive back Al Pregal intercepted a David McFarland pass.

The Steelers moved the ball to the three before a clipping penalty moved them back to the 19 yard line. Two plays later, sophomore quarterback Shane Cole made a perfect pass to Bob Quick.

But North's first touchdown of the season. However, Daren DePew missed the extra point attempt.

The lessons didn't continue until the third quarter. After that, it seemed like the lessons would never end.

DePew, North's punter, fumbled the snap but recovered. It didn't matter. DePew much good to recover the ball.

The Crusaders sacked DePew for 13 yards at North's 20 yard line.

Six plays later, Kevin Schott ran a yard to tie the game with 7:18 left in the third quarter. Kevin McFarland kicked the extra point to put Althoff ahead 7-6.

Now it was time to advance to the next course in creating turning points.

On third down and 11 at North's 14 yard line, Pregal swept around the right end and ran 88 yards for a touchdown.

Steelers coach Tom Wyrostek called for a fake kick for the conversion. The snap came, but it was fumbled. Sean Wyrostek recovered the ball and tried to run to the end zone, but he was tackled far from the goal line. North 12, Althoff 7.

Now it was time for Demick to write a thesis on turning game around. Althoff ran seven running plays — four of which Demick ran for 20 yards — to move the ball from the Crusader 25 to the Steelers 43.

On the next play, Demick found a hole around left end for the touchdown.

Again, McFarland kicked the extra point and Althoff led 14-12.

The Crusaders were not content to end the lessons early. Defensive tackle Mike Stober intercepted one of Cole's passes at North's seven yard line.

Despite three consecutive five yard penalties, David Mitchell kicked a 33-yard field goal to clinch the game.

North managed to move the ball 58 yards on its next series, but the Steelers couldn't convert a fourth and four situation at Althoff's 22 yard line.

Althoff also move the ball down the field quickly but failed to do anything more than run down the clock.

With 1:43 left in the game, North had one more chance. Cole hit Quick for six yards, and then North appeared to have created its own turning point on the way when Cole completed a pass to John Kindle, who threw a lateral to Pregal and gained 40 yards on the play.

On the next play, defensive halfback Tim Gehrs intercepted Cole's pass to end the turning point seminar — and North's chances.

"This was a great game for the fans,"

Schott said. "There were plenty of mistakes made in the game to make it exciting for everyone watching."

Wyrostek didn't emphasize the entertainment side of the mistakes when he talked about them.

"We beat ourselves. We were pleased with the effort they made, but it was just the mental mistakes that hurt us," Wyrostek said.

The Steelers had their best offensive game of the year gaining 108 yard rushing and 107 yards passing, but Althoff gained 273 yards on the ground and took advantage of North's mistakes.

"We're really starting to move the ball much better than we were, but we let them control the line when they were on offense. Demick was really tough to control. He's just a good runner," Wyrostek said.

"The things I thought would work against them didn't, and the things I thought that wouldn't work did work. I was surprised and pleased we were able to move the football well because we haven't been able to do it before," Schott said.

North hosts Granite City South in the Steelers' homecoming game Friday at South's field. North is 1-3 overall and 0-1 in the Gateway East. Althoff is 2-2 overall and 2-0 in the conference.

Cahokia downs improved South

By STEVE ROTSCH
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — The Cahokia Comanches expected their football game, Friday, against the Granite City South Warriors to be easy, but quickly found themselves in a dogfight, according to Comanche coach Lawrence Taylor Jr.

And although the Comanches did post a 28-18 victory, the score doesn't indicate how close the game really was.

With 18 seconds remaining in the game, Comanche quarterback Dave Mardirosian started to his right, spotted a hole up the middle, scored, then added a 2-point conversion to give Cahokia a 28-18 victory.

The Warriors had pulled within 2 points of the Comanches when Ken Portell scored from the 2-yard line with 4:30 left in the game. With the score 20-18, the Warriors attempted a 2-point conversion to tie the score that failed when Warrior quarterback John Linhart's pass fell harmlessly in the end zone.

Although the Warrior's onside kickoff attempt was unsuccessful, their defense did force the Comanches to punt the ball. But the Warrior punter receiver allowed the ball to get over his head and the Comanches downed it at the 3-yard line.

Even with time running out, the Warriors still seemed to have a chance until Linhart couldn't handle the snap from Dominic Griffin and lost the ball on their own 8-yard line.

The Comanches used up the remaining time on their way to their final score.

While sitting on a can of soda in the gym Dominic Griffin's father, James, said, "They've worked hard and we're proud of them." His son had led the Warriors on defense with 17 tackles.

Joni Platt, defensive end and Chip Bohman's mother, smiled when Mother's Night was going to be.

Her husband, George, said she is the one who has to wash his uniforms so it would only be right.

Bohman was a key to stopping the Linhart, who was 7-12-0 passing for 74 yards in the game, had led his team down the field with a pass to Rick Momphard and a 35-yard bomb to Tom Adamits which put the Warriors on the 5-yard line. Several plays and an interference call later Portell powered into the end zone.

But in the fourth quarter the Warriors made three key mistakes. Two snaps from the center were mishandled and a Comanche punt was downed on the three-yard line when the Warrior receiver let it get over his head.

McKechan explained that the two fumbles came from two different centers. Dave Brown was moved to center this week because many of the team members were out with sickness.

First-team center Dominic Griffin was moved to guard.

The first fumble came with Brown centering the ball. McKechan said it's unfortunate but understandable for something like that to happen when someone new is snapping the ball. Then Brown was hurt and Griffin moved back to his regular position at center.

This time the Warriors lost the ball on the 8-yard line.

"I bet they've practiced that thousands of times," McKechan said, "but when you change centers the rhythm changes."

Ken Portell led the Warrior rushing attack with 34 carries for 133 yards.

It was Portell's running during the Warrior's first possession that enabled them to score.

But the Cahokia coach didn't feel that the Warrior's initial drive was a true indication of his team's defense.

"We worked all week on defending against the pass. We conceded the run," Taylor said.

He added, "My guys thought this would be easy and they (the Warriors) kind of surprised them. Granite City has some good football players."

The defeat dropped the Warrior's record to 0-4 on the season and 0-2 against Gateway East conference foes.

The Comanches recorded their first win of the season and, evened their conference record at 1-1 and their season record to 1-3.

Granite City South plays Granite City North Friday at 7:30 p.m. at South's field. The game will be North's Homecoming game.

Cougar women prep for Lindenwood game

EDWARDSVILLE — Some much-needed rest recuperation from the little bumps and bruises that have followed the women's soccer team at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville lie ahead as the Cougars have until Oct. 6 before their next intercollegiate game. The Cougars' return to action Oct. 6 will be at Cougar Field when they play Lindenwood College in a 7 p.m. match.

Last weekend, at the university of Missouri-St. Louis Budweiser Tournament, the Cougars saw their record slip to 4-4. In opening round action, the Cougars discovered what growing pains were in the national tournament. UCF demonstrated national championship potential as they handed the Cougars an 8-0 setback. Saturday, the Cougars bounced back and defeated the University of Texas as goalkeeper Lisa Sarich recorded her third shutout of the season and the Cougars collected two first-period goals to move into the consolation championship game, 2-0.

Against Indiana University last Sunday, the Cougars' thoughts of a 2-2 tie ended with 10 seconds remaining in the game as Martha Kingham collected a goal off a corner kick to give the Hoosiers a 3-2 victory.

The Cougars opened the season with a 3-2 victory over the University of Wisconsin-Madison and have since defeated the university of Missouri-Rolla (3-0) and Maryville College (10-0).

SECOND LARGEST CROWD ... The crowd of 71,547 which saw the Illinois-Pittsburgh game in Memorial Stadium last week was the second largest crowd in the 59-year history of the Stadium. The only game that drew more fans was the 1946 Illinois Notre Dame game which attracted 75,119 people.

Even in defeat, fathers are proud

It was more than a boys' football game at Granite City South Friday. It was a chance for the parents of the football players to praise their sons.

It was also Dad's Night at the football game. The Warrior fathers or their stand-ins, wearing the number of the player represented, were introduced before the game and watched the game from chairs placed along the sideline. After the game they are treated to refreshments in the gym.

While sitting on a can of soda in the gym Dominic Griffin's father, James, said, "They've worked hard and we're proud of them." His son had led the Warriors on defense with 17 tackles.

Joni Platt, defensive end and Chip Bohman's mother, smiled when Mother's Night was going to be.

Her husband, George, said she is the one who has to wash his uniforms so it would only be right.

Bohman was a key to stopping the runs to the outside and spent a lot of the evening harassing the Comanche's quarterback.

Linhart's father, Joe, was a vocal fan, shouting his encouragement. "He (John) takes a beating every week. This is the first time he's started on defense."

"This team doesn't quit," he added.

"We have been this close before," McKechan said. "Last year, we had four games like this. I just don't know what the answer is."

Warrior kickers edge Quincy Notre Dame 2-1

By NANCY WEIL

of the Press-Record
QUINCY — The Granite City soccer team probably did not need to be told that Quincy Notre Dame was perfectly capable of winning Saturday, especially after the Raiders scored the first goal of the game.

But South coach Gene Baker reminded the Warriors anyway. Apparently his words sunk in as South scored soon after on a penalty kick and went on to win 2-1.

The three-hour bus ride might have had something to do with South's first quarter play, which was not as vigorous as usual.

"With the trip, they're not always mentally game ready," Baker said. Kevin Grove took advantage of South's bus lag when he scored off a low kick with an assist from Eric Peters at 12:37.

With about eight seconds left in the quarter, Tony Segobiano scored on a penalty kick.

Although Quincy gave South plenty to think about, the Warriors completely dominated the game. Thanks to excellent goalkeeping by Brent Unmigg, the Raiders allowed only one more goal at 50:29 when John Menendez scored on an assist from Bill Henry.

After three corner kicks in rapid succession, Barry Grote took the ball into the Quincy area. Henry got the ball to Menendez who scored on a head ball deep in the Quincy area.

The Warriors continued to pressure the QND defense. In the third quarter, Grote took a direct free kick that hit the crossbar and nearly went in. Phil Harizal took a corner kick into the area and Unmigg kept the ball away by hitting it out.

It was in the fourth quarter, however, that Unmigg showed his talent. South kept the ball in or near the Quincy area for almost the entire quarter, but time and again Unmigg stopped the ball.

"They're a good team. They played a good game against us," Baker said of Quincy Notre Dame.

Earlier in the season, QND upset cross-town rival Quincy Senior 1-0. Knowing Quincy Notre Dame's potential strength, Baker said he was pleased with South's win, especially considering the long drive.

"I've always felt that anytime you come out of here with a victory you should be happy," he said.

The junior varsity tied its game 2-2 on penalty kicks. After regulation time and two overtimes, South coach Mel Bunting said he and QND's coach felt a winner should be determined, but the game apparently was meant to be tied. Chris Kahn and Brent Cook scored for South. John Veizer was the goalkeeper.

South's Tournament of Champions begins Wednesday with the Warriors scheduled to play Indiana Memorial at 8 p.m. at South's field.

Baker said he "hopes" the team is ready for the tourney. Thus far, South has set its priorities as the season has progressed, he said. Doing well in the Glenbrook North tournament was a priority and doing well in the conference game next.

With both of those goals down, Baker said the Tournament of Champions is next.

the game. "They had had enough. I can't say that I disagree with them."

Both Kehoe and South coach Gene Baker were disappointed with the fighting. While Kehoe questioned what he believed to be an unfair situation, Baker said he felt the high emotions of the game caused the brawl.

"I believe it was the result of a few individuals who cannot handle a situation and over react," he said.

Baker added that he would never approve of fighting, but "I still think they need to defend themselves in certain circumstances. I elect not to cast aspersions at the other team. I simply prefer to blame the situation and high emotions rather than end a young man's reputation as an athlete, a student and a fellow human being."

He refused to comment as to how he thought the fight started or as to whom he felt was involved. Both coaches said they were proud of their teams. "I'm proud of my lads," Kehoe said.

"Our kids played well, with discipline," Baker said.

South controlled the game early and scored first at 9:22. Popmarkoff scored on an assist from Jim Crews. The ball actually hit Mike Dennis, a North defender who tried to stop the shot, and went into the net. Dennis should be commended for the effort.

It was Popmarkoff's tenth goal of the season.

In the second quarter, Popmarkoff was given the yellow card after he and North's Jim Burton went after the ball. Burton went down and Popmarkoff leaped over him. But Burton injured his left knee on the play.

At 43:29, Crane scored on an assist from Barry Grote. South continued to dominate and Rick Branding, North's goalkeeper, again played a superb

After the second goal, Phil Harizal had an open shot that went wide to the right. Tate was injured and went out with a cut on his left knee, which was operated on not long before the season started.

Norby Segobiano was yellow-carded near the end of the third quarter, but the game still was under control.

In the fourth, North's Derek Merz was yellow-carded. It was during the third and fourth quarters that play started to become rough, although remained uneventful.

South scored its third goal when Henry took the ball down the right side and crossed to the left. Menendez crossed to Harizal who was deep in the area just past the left goalpost. He shot the ball and it hooked around and into the left side of the net at 72:55 for Harizal's third goal of the season.

The intensity of the game continued until 1:55 remained.

"We're not pleased with the outcome," Kehoe said after the Steelers left the field. That decision prompted North principal Gilbert Walmaley to suspend the entire team from the McCluer North game Saturday.

Baker, however, said he was "very satisfied with the victory from the standpoint of how our kids played."

North, South harriers fare well in Springfield

SPRINGFIELD — Both the Granite City South girls' cross country team and the Granite City North boys' cross country team had a major change in their hands in the Springfield Invitational cross country meet Saturday.

Despite a difficult course and illnesses, both teams did well in the meet, which was run at Lincoln Park.

South came within two points of winning the girls' portion of the meet, winning the girls' race with 51 points, but there were two teams a little better than South. Urbana won with 51 points, and Peoria Central was second with 52 points.

In the boys' portion of the meet, North finished fourth with 99 points. Springfield Lamphier, which was ranked third in a statewide cross country poll last week, won with 32 points. Pekin was second with 76 points, and Peoria Central was third with 84 points.

The steep hills on the Lincoln Park course made it a difficult one for both Granite City teams. Both teams are unaccustomed to courses with steep hills. In fact, South coach Richard Harmon thought the course was the difference in the meet.

"I thought we knew how to run on hills, but it looked like we didn't. We'll need to work on the hills before the Sectional. This was the first time we ran the course, and I thought we did a little above average," Harmon said.

It is likely both South and North will have to run at Lincoln Park again this year. The Sectional cross country meet will be held there Nov. 6.

South's Lora Wiser finished second in the girls' race. Melissa Straza of Urbana won the race in 11:22, and Wiser ran the course in 11:56.

The remainder of South's top five finishers in this order: Mary Bisch, fourth, 12:20; Michelle Shoemaker, ninth, 12:42; Mary Komine, 16th, 13:21; and Connie Williamson, 25th, 13:57.

Vicki Schaefer was North's top finisher. Her time of 13:53 was good for 28th place.

"All of the girls ran pretty well. Right now, we're probably among the top five in downstate Illinois, and we hope to be able to move up as we start to peak," Harmon said.

"Both of the teams that beat us at the meet were good, but if we would have run the hills a little better, we might have beaten them," Harmon said.

North's Jim Robertson was just one victim of the illness spreading around cross country teams recently. Robertson, recovering from bronchitis, finished fourth in 15:52.

Jack Park of Pekin won the race in 15:34.

Fourth place isn't bad for a meet such as the Springfield meet, but Robertson could have won the race had he not been ill, according to Robertson.

Ken Meyer of North came in 11th and ran the course in 16:15. Bill Schaefer was 20th (16:46). John Peters was 30th (17:34), and Darren Bernaix was 34th (18:04).

Peters ran a slower race than usual because he was recovering from the flu.

"I think we can beat both Pekin and Peoria Central if we can get a good race out of our fourth and fifth runners next time," Robinson said.

During the freshman-sophomore cross country meet, Robinson might have found a strong contender for the fifth spot in Keith Bono. Bono ran the freshman-sophomore race in 17:22, better than some of the varsity runners would have run it.

"He could be our fifth runner. He's going to push Ken Kalka and Bernaix for the fifth spot," Robinson said.

Study of treatment plant staff to begin in two weeks

By GEORGEANN MCGEE

of the Press-Record
In about seven weeks, Granite City aldermen should have an unbiased answer to their long-standing question concerning the proper number of employees needed to staff the city's wastewater treatment plant.

How the council intends to use the information, which could call for additional or fewer staff members, is a matter yet to be decided.

Last week, aldermen selected the CRS Group Engineers, Clark Dietz Division, from Urbana, Ill., to independently gather staffing and maintenance information. Lack of such information from a neutral source has supposedly brought to a standstill further aldermanic discussion on a sewage treatment rate hike for residential and commercial users that had been debated earlier this year.

Treatment Plant Superintendent Clarence McMillan estimates the study should begin within the next two weeks. The firm's $10,000 fee will pay for a 240-hour study and involve the work of five CRS staff members. CRS was selected from among four competitive firms, which gave presentations before the wastewater plant committee last week.

Committee Chairman Alderman Paul Fisk, who released his remarks for publication from a closed council session he called, recommended the Clark Dietz proposal for both its scope and the firm's experience in the sewage treatment field.

He emphasized that the city has not had previous work performed by the firm. The CRS, Clark Dietz Division, proposal given last week listed as an objective for gaining the job the premise the firm would be bringing no "preconceived conclusions" to the project.

The council already has heard the staffing estimates from Superintendent McMillan, union representatives and the brief opinion of an outside firm. None of those figures, however, have apparently removed the doubts some members continue to have about the number of staff members needed to run the plant.

In May, the council signed an agreement with the plant's union, Operating Engineers Local 525, agreeing that no layoffs will occur without just reason and the plant will be staffed by at least 26 employees.

Alderman Casmer Skubish said he is concerned that the findings of the study could conflict with the union agreement, but voted to approve the study. However, Alderman Sharon Perjak, member of the negotiating committee, reminded the council that the union is encouraging the study, confident its staffing number will be confirmed. "They feel we don't have a leg to stand on," Mrs. Perjak said.

Until the study is presented, it is "just speculation" whether or not the plant is under or over staffed, Fisk said. He asked the council if members are prepared to hire more staff members, if the study indicates too few employees now man the plant.

According to the Clark Dietz proposal, the staffing analysis will involve the federal and state Environmental Protection Agencies recommendations, the organization of the current staff and the staff capacities.

The project also will include an operations and maintenance review and a capital improvements evaluation of the plant's proposed changes, along with estimated costs.

The study was considered after the city comptroller supplied aldermen with information indicating a substantial rate raise is necessary to cover previously unpaid bond reserve accounts and expected repairs at the plant.

The current residential rate for sewage treatment is $13 per quarter. Increases agencies supported a compromise proposal to have an independent firm determine the efficiency of current operations before making a determination on the scope of the necessary rate hike.

In July, the council defeated a series of proposed rate hikes, coupled with staff layoffs. However, the

Demos plan weekly food distribution

Granite City Democratic precinct committees will give away two bushels of groceries each Saturday before the Nov. 2 election to show their support to the unemployed and needy in the area, according to Committee Chairman Joe Williams.

The grocery receipt will be selected by a drawing eligible to anyone age 18 or older and a resident of the state. Only one registration per address is allowed.

The drawings and registration forms are at the Democratic headquarters at the former Leader's store location at Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center, in the 3600 block of Namekiki Road. Williams also is asking for money to purchase food or canned goods donations to be distributed at the drawing. No contributions given for the drawing will be used for the Democratic party election, Williams pledged.

He said, some unions already have contributed toward the project.

Granite City Treasurer Nick Petrillo will be giving away produce for the drawing each week.

Any food left over will be given away the last Saturday the drawings take place.

MRS. WILMA FINCH, left, guest speaker at the FSA/North High School Chapter meeting. A secretary to Sister Mary Thomas, president of St. Elizabeth Medical Center. Mrs. Finch is presenting a SEMC folder to Debbie Besserman and Denise Cooper. The information related to a summary of a workday in the office at the medical center.

Future Secretaries install new officers

The first meeting of Granite City High School North Future Secretaries Association opened with installation of officers, a very educational and enlightening speaker, and all the hot pizza that the members could eat.

Mrs. Wilma Finch, executive secretary to Sister Mary Thomas, president of St. Elizabeth Medical Center, gave the members a look at a typical day in the life of a SEMC secretary, including checking the coal basket in Sister's office (which is used as the "out" basket). Her presentation gave the students a clearer understanding of the demands on a secretary other than the normal shorthand and typing skills, and showed the importance of remembering to do the "little things" that make everyone's job run more smoothly.

In addition to learning about the duties of a hospital secretary's job, the audience also gained an intimate insight into the personality of Sister Mary Thomas, and how she works efficiently and compassionately with people on all levels. Before closing her remarks, Mrs. Finch discussed the importance of answering the telephone properly, and of being loyal to the company which pays the wages. She stressed that company loyalty is one of the most important assets of a good employee.

The three local FSA chapters, located at Granite City High School-South, Granite City High School-North, and Madison High School, are sponsored by the members of the Tri-Cities Chapter, Professional Secretaries International. Representing the Tri-Cities Chapter at this year's GCHS-North FSA meetings is Mrs. Charlotte Vunovic, who officiated at the installation of officers. Assisting her in the candlelight ceremony was Mrs. Mary Gann, president of the Tri-Cities Chapter. New officers installed were Mary Turk, president, Loretta Straubinger, vice-president, Laura Hosier, recording secretary, Sandra Sunderlik, treasurer, and Rebecca Bassoo and Kim Garin, board members-at-large. Faculty advisor, Mrs. Linda Haddox, explained to the prospective members how they had qualified for membership, and told them the rules of remaining members in good standing, should they choose to join the FSA Chapter. One of the most important points she brought out was meeting attendance. She briefly outlined the planned programs for the school year. Mrs. Vunovic explained the difference between the Future Secretaries Association, a professional organization, and the usual school clubs, stressing that it is not a club but, that emphasis is on educational meetings which will help the students get a head start when they graduate and start applying for jobs.

The final event of the evening was pizza-tasting. As a possible money-making event, the members may take orders for pizzas in the near future, but before deciding, the general sales manager of a Pizza Place, chose this method of introducing them to the taste of his particular brand of pizza.

OES grand chapter session this week

The 107th Grand Chapter session of the Order of the Eastern Star of Illinois is in session at the Medinah Temple, Chicago, Ill.

Sunday opened the four day session with Helen L. Ederly of Wheaton, worthy grand matron, and Lyle W. Papendick of Peoria, worthy grand patron, in charge.

The Grand Chapter is governed by 18 officers, of which eight are elected and 10 are appointed. Delegates of 181 chapters in the state met in Chicago in 1875 to organize the state body and elected Elizabeth Butler of Chicago, to serve as the first worthy grand matron.

Through the years the grand chapter has provided scholarship aid to young people, assisted in disasters, donated money to the USO during both World Wars, given aid to people in tornado struck areas and contributed to national charities including the Hoof Fund, Cancer Fund, Leukemia Fund, Arthritis Foundation. They also donate funds to the Illinois Masonic Medical Center and to Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children.

In 1897 the Eastern Star purchased a home and land in Macon, Ill., to establish a home for widows and orphans and as time went on it turned into a home for the aged and ill members of the order.

The project grew from the original one building to four buildings by 1946 and on Jan. 25, 1956 fire broke out and the three old buildings were lost, but not one life was lost.

A new building was dedicated May 3, 1958 that now houses 80 women living there.

Many Quad-City residents are attending the state meeting, according to Margaret Schneider, publicity chairman for the state organization.

No hearing date on appeal of school case

No hearing date has been set on Granite City schools' appeal of a temporary injunction issued Sept. 15 in Jerseyville. The case was appealed the same day to the appellate court in Mount Vernon.

Judge Howard Lee White of Jersey County said a Granite City woman, 21, can be admitted for up to one semester to the same GCIS North classes provided in 1981-82. The district says she was certified for graduation in the spring of 1982. The student resumed classes this week.

The appeal cites laws, regulations and a new state education office ruling, all stating that a person cannot continue in public secondary classes beyond the school year in which the age of 21 was reached.

After initially saying due process procedures were not followed by the school district, a point that Judge White appeared not to find valid, Circuit Judge A. A. Matosian told the court the district had failed to provide appropriate instruction. He asserts that continuation in high school will be of more benefit to her than it will be of harm to the school system.

Instructional costs are being determined, and a bond has been provided by the family to indemnify the district in the event there is a future court ruling against the family.

White ruled that the judge must post a $4,000 bond. The school system says it cannot utilize tax funds, state aid or federal revenue for the education of an individual over 21 years of age.

A special education student is the subject of the litigation.

Chief Circuit Judge Joseph Barr approved a change of venue Aug. 27, leading to the assignment of an outside judge, since the suit was initiated by a Third Circuit judge.

Clinton Cook is ordained

Clinton Cook was ordained in religious ceremonies at the New Hope General Baptist Church, Spanish Lake, Mo., last week.

The charge was given him by his father, the Rev. Cecil Cook, pastor of the Johnson Road General Baptist Church, Granite City.

Dick Murray of the Illinois Presbytery Association offered the ordination prayer and the closing meditations were by Oliver Cook, grandfather of the new minister.

The Smith and Dickerson Quartet from Cedar View General Baptist Church, 3700 Ruth St., sang, "My House Is Full," during the service.

Rev. Cook served as student minister at Mount Zion General Baptist Church, 2067 Benton St., during the summer and several members of the congregation attended the ceremonies.

BUILDING PERMITS ISSUED

Most of the 129 building permits issued in August were for replacement of roofs, records indicate. Extensive work also was done in the area of air conditioning units during that month.

Permits were obtained for substantial improvements and building of three duplexes in Lueder's Park for $50,000 and for remodeling work costing $218,000 at Shasta Beverage on Route 3.

GC park fall activities to start next week

The fall activities sponsored by the Granite City Park District will be getting under way next week.

On Monday, Oct. 11 ID applications will be taken in the Wilson Park Office from 10 until 11:30 a.m. and 2 until 4 p.m. Children will be out of school that day in observance of Columbus Day, therefore, it will give everyone a chance to get an ID, since they will be required when registering for all Park District activities.

Another special ID session will be on Saturday, October 16 from 9:30 a.m. until 11:30 a.m.

On Tuesday, Oct. 12, classes begin in tap and ballet. Registration will be on the first day of class. On Thursday, Oct. 14, those interested in tumbling and gymnastics may register at the Brown Recreation Center from 5 until 9 p.m. The classes will be assigned at that time and will begin the week of Oct. 18. Baton lessons begin Wednesday, Oct. 13, with registration on that day.

On Friday, Oct. 8, adult residents may sign up for the adult special interest classes. Registration for the craft classes will be at the Wilson Park Ice Rink beginning at 9 a.m. IDs will be required for those wanting to participate.

NAMED IN WARRANTS
Madison and Granite City police last week arrested Robert Abney, 35, of 2127 Lincoln Ave. on 1982 Granite City warrants alleging theft and deceptive practice. Bond was set at $2,000 during a court appearance Thursday.

A NEW BIKE, a 10-speed, is awarded to Patricia Fisher, daughter of Ronald and Nina Fisher of Granite City by Robert Jones, right, owner of Boskie Robbins 31 Ice Cream as a lucky customer in an area-wide store promotion. Standing at the left is store manager Beth Keller. The store also awarded Steamer tickets to Don Keeling, a birthday party cake, ice cream and a game to Victoria Milford and a birthday party kit to Dawn Harris. The Boskie Robbins clowns were in attendance throughout the weekend.

Pianist postpones concert

Her husband stabbed in the arm by an assailant in New York, Ruth Slenczynska has postponed her Herbert A. Woodbury Memorial Concert from Sunday, Oct. 10, to Sunday, Nov. 28, at 3:30 p.m.

James Kerr and his concert pianist wife were accosted late last week as they were walking near their apartment in upper Manhattan. Suffering a partially paralyzed arm from the knife-wielding attack, Kerr prevented a teenage boy from seizing a gold bracelet that the SIU government professor was wearing.

Surgery will be required to mend a severed nerve in his arm, according to Kerr.

Mrs. Slenczynska's husband specializes in the teaching of constitutional law at the Edwardsville campus, where both are faculty members.

In postponing the concert, Mrs. Slenczynska described herself as "too emotionally torn up."

Bishop Donald Hulstrand of Springfield dedicated the Woodbury Memorial Fountain as scheduled on Saturday.

Classes on diabetes

What do many people have in common with writer-historian H. G. Wells, well-known hockey player Bobby Clark, and television star Mary Tyler Moore? They are all diabetics.

Although many people share this common disease, some are unaware of how to properly manage it so they can live normal active lives. Every Friday at 1 p.m. Carol Henrichs, a registered nurse at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, will hold a class covering things a person should know about diabetes, including causes and methods of treatment. Classes covering proper diet will be held from 1 to 2 p.m. on Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 6 and 7.

All classes are free to the public and will meet in the classroom on the third floor of the Doctors' Wing. For more information or to make reservations, interested persons may contact the Nursing Education Department at 798-3144.

Freemasons honor Thomas A. Burns

A group of 166 leading Masons was named Thursday to receive the Thirty-third Degree next September in Milwaukee, Wisc., at the closing session of the Supreme Council of Scottish Rite Freemasonry for the Northern Masonic Jurisdiction of the United States.

Fourteen of the fifteen northeastern and mid-western states announced nominations in St. Louis for Scottish Rite's top award. It is conferred for "outstanding contributions to Freemasonry or for dedicated service to humanity reflecting credit to the Fraternity."

Among those to be honored at Milwaukee next year are Governor Lee S. Dreyfus of Wisconsin and John A. Scott, chairman of the Gannett Foundations.

The 18 Illinoisans to be honored include Thomas Arthur Burns of Granite City Rural Route One, a private investigator; Charles Gustav Kurrus III, Belleville a funeral home director; and Victor Henry Reinhardt, O'Fallon, a retired banker.

Acid rain
 Some areas of the eastern United States and southeastern Canada are receiving rainfall as acidic as vinegar. Six percent of the lakes and ponds in New York's Adirondack Mountains have no fish because of their water's high acid content, which has increased substantially in the last few decades as the burning of fossil fuels has risen.

A plan for all seasons.

The Payroll Savings Plan is one of the easiest, safest ways to get started on the saving habit. Even if saving has always seemed too difficult in past seasons.

A little is automatically taken out of each paycheck toward the purchase of U.S. Savings Bonds. You'll never miss it, so you'll never spend it.

It just keeps growing for some coming spring, or maybe a warm vacation during a cold winter.

It's a plan for all seasons. For all Americans.

Take stock in America.

When you put part of your savings into U.S. Savings Bonds you're helping to build a brighter future for your country and for yourself.

Linda Purl returns to 'Happy Days'

By ALAN L. GANSBERG

HOLLYWOOD — The Fonz's new lady friend is actually a returnee to the "Happy Days" fold.

LINDA PURL has joined the long-running ABC series (it's in season No. 10) as Ashley Pfister, a divorcee with a young daughter. She's taken a job as the accountant at the local hang-out which is partly owned by Fonzie. He meets her and is smitten.

"Ashley is supposed to be from one of the richest families in Milwaukee," Linda said. "But she met and married a grease monkey and her parents were so horrified that they disowned her. When she had a baby, the mechanic ran off. Now Fonzie is struck by her, but all she sees is another grease monkey. There's still a little trepidation in her. She doesn't know if she wants to get involved."

"Happy Days" fans may recall that Linda was on the show for many episodes during its second season as "one of Richie's gum-chewing girlfriends." She decided to return to the series "because it's 'Happy Days.' I like what the show implies. I like the theme. Beneath the light-heartedness, the values of the show are good. Entertainment has a responsibility to the public."

She also rejoined because of her friendship with HENRY WINKLER, the Fonz.

"Henry is a very dedicated performer," Linda explained. "It's as if he just got the job yesterday. He's a good actor and he takes a great deal of joy in his work. He helps 'Happy Days' become an unusual set. They operate as a team, a family."

Doing a comedy is a lot different than the work Linda finished just prior to beginning work on the series. She is one of the stars of "Money On The Side," an ABC movie about suburban homemakers who become prostitutes for various reasons. Her character married too young, and becomes a call girl hoping to get the money to pull her young family together. It ends in tragedy.

"The way we did the movie it doesn't make a moral judgment," Linda insisted. "It does say, 'We know you have problems, but this is not the solution.' It was a different kind of character for me."

Off the set these days, Linda can be found with the "Happy Days" cast and crew involved in the show's softball team. Although she had never played the game before, Linda is now a part of the team and goes on tour with them for charity games. In September they ventured to Germany. In August it was New Orleans. Any way you look at it, she now belongs.

BO and JOHN DEREK are having problems getting financing for their proposed film, "Eve and That Damned Apple," which would be a twist on the biblical tale. John knows about Bible stories, having played Joshua in "The Ten Commandments."

And speaking of features — how's this for a duo. JOHN TRAVOLTA has agreed to reprise his heralded role as Tony Manero in a sequel to "Saturday Night Fever" entitled "Staying Alive." And word is that John is insisting that SYLVESTER STALLONE write, direct and produce the feature. Stallone would not appear in the project.

It's definite! As reported here before, CBS was developing a TV movie sequel to the old "Leave it to Beaver" series. The network has ordered the project to film, meaning it will get on the air.

TONY DOW, JERRY MATHERS, BARBARA BILLINGSLEY, RICHARD DEACON (Lumpy Rutherford's father) and KEN OSMOND (Eddie Haskell) will return. HUGH BEAUMONT, the father, passed away recently.

And CBS has teamed JOHNNY CASH and ANDY GRIFFITH for "Murder in Coweta County," a Southern-based tale.

PEGGY LEE is heading toward Broadway and a one-woman show. Meanwhile, LENA HORNE is bringing her award-winning one-woman Broadway show to Los Angeles.

'Believe It or Not' returns to TV

By GUS STEVENS

HOLLYWOOD — Museum built from a single tree! Hopping Festival of St. Vitus in Luxembourg! Remarkable builders of the Sphinx and the Acropolis! Origins of King Arthur, and Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde!

Who else could come up with such a string of exclamation points but Robert Ripley? The durable artist, who started as a sports cartoonist in San Francisco when he was very young, presented the first radio series about his often-weird and unworldly discoveries himself. Three months after he launched his 1949 television series, "Believe It or Not," Ripley died.

The show limped along for another season with Robert St. John as host and a guest cast enacting one after another of Ripley's presumably true tales. But then, like the artist himself, the program faded away.

Ripley's idea never died, though, and it has endured for decades in dozens of newspapers. Last year ABC decided to give Ripley another shot on television, ordering three specials from producer Jack Haley Jr. They starred Jack Palanca, a man born to tell stories to make the hairs rise on the back of your neck.

The specials drew remarkably large audiences. People still wanted to see freaks of nature and hear about unfortunates who had triumphed over adversity. Never let it be said that television doesn't take advantage of a good thing.

"Ripley's Believe It or Not" returns to ABC this fall as a weekly show, Sundays at 7 p.m., opposite CBS' "60 Minutes," and NBC's newcomer, "Voyager." If Ripley can survive and flourish against Wallace, Safer, Reasoner, Bradley and Rooney, it will have worked a true "Believe It or Not" miracle. The latest ABC victim of the 7 p.m. Sunday time slot is "Code Red," which went down in flames with Lorne Greene at the controls of a big red engine.

The new show has five production teams traveling throughout Europe, the Far East and the United States, recording exotic events, rites, myths and legends, the unusual and unexplained, remarkable historical events and oddities of man and nature.

The show's concept is: "If Robert Ripley were alive today, how would he use television?"

Nobody knows the answer more than Haley, a successful film documentarian for 22 years, winner of an Air Force commendation for a documentary film, winner of an Emmy, three Venice Film Festival Silver Lions and two Peabody Awards. He wrote, produced and directed a National Geographic special on insects, "The Hidden World," voted 1967's best TV program.

"It's a big world out there," Haley said. "We (in the Ripley series) do historic material which we can dramatize. We're not 'Real People.' We don't do stunts. We're not 'That's Incredible.' When we do a recreation, we will clearly state that this is a recreation."

Haley, son of Jack Haley, the famed Tin Woodman in "The Wizard of Oz," is a large man, a solid-appearing fellow in the fidgety world of Hollywood, a brainy individual with imagination enough to put his finger on likely "Believe It or Not" candidates.

"I knew Jack (Palanca) before we did the Ripley specials last year," Haley said, "but I never realized what a wonderful narrator and storyteller he is. He's an offbeat character both the network and I liked."

"If we can make any kind of ratings gain opposite '60 Minutes' we'll be major heroes at ABC. I'll be traveling some, such as going to China with a crew."

Haley could be a candidate for a "Believe It or Not" episode himself. He has lived a fairy-tale life. Not only was he the son of a famous father, he also was the son of Florence McFadden, one-time Ziegfeld Girl and Earl ("Through these portals pass the most beautiful girls in the world") Carroll beauty.

His school years were divided between Hollywood and New York at the Children's Professional School and Mount St. Michael's Academy. He graduated from Loyola University of Los Angeles and did post-graduate work in cinema arts at the University of California at Los Angeles and the University of Southern California.

Someone asked Haley what it was like living in the same house with the Tin Woodman. "It was wonderful," Haley said, "like living in Oz. The house was always filled with fantastic characters, people that, to me, were walking the yellow brick road."

The experience did nothing to crimp young Haley's imagination, as "Ripley's Believe It or Not" will attest.
